Ishfaque Ali

I am a thirty four years old watercolorist from Karachi striving for a way to move forward being a self taught artist. Although, i had discovered my artistic instinct in my childhood but i couldnt justify to my society that i want to study art. I am a management student, living a managerial life seeking for time to paint and I do it successfully. As an artist I have participated in various national and international group shows. I have been honored with various recognitions specially 1st position at Art Council of Pakistan in 2017 at Sindh Artists Exhibition and Appreciation award at IWS Paksiatn in 2018. I work hard to develop paintings that speak both to me and to others about the beauty that exists in routine glimpses of life. The fast moving life is full of flavours, colors, expressions and moods, that are worthy enough to be preserved. Part of my process before I begin painting is to talk with the faces i came across too fast, it usually takes weeks and sometimes months to negotiate with them and have agreement to paint them. The challenge, as with every recreated moment is to not caricature the moment and instead capture it in all in its real glory. My artwork speaks, not only for me, but for people & objects who never said a word.

Shaima Umar

My name is Shaima Umer. I belong to Lahore, Pakistan, which is rich in natural beauty and hence satisfies my passion of painting. I enjoy capturing the rhythm of waves lapping at the shore, the boats on the mighty waters, at the mercy of the winds.... The way waters play with the wind, churning and gurgling, I try to capture them all. I find poetry in these natural scenes.

My paintings are a syndicate product of nature, perception and imagination and hence have been showcased at many international platforms. I give my sincere efforts to capture the magic of nature, and have been humbled by International and National awards.
